Ramsay Gillman On Making Business Better

“Without It, We Couldn’t Sell Nearly The Amount Of Vehicles We Do.”

Ramsay Gillman

“Prompt and consistent customer follow-up is a significant part of my dealership’s success. With the integration of our phone and POWER dealership management systems through POWER’s Telephone Cost Control, my managers know who’s making calls, who’s being called, and the length of those calls. Tracking all outgoing calls keeps every salesperson and service advisor in my dealership more accountable and better organized. We’ve seen higher customer satisfaction and increased sales.”
